United Way of Southwestern Indiana's $10,000 Donor Incentive Drawing Winner Donates Winnings Back to United Way

Evansville, IN – United Way of Southwestern Indiana's live drawing for their $10,000 "Donate Today, Shape Tomorrow" Donor Incentive Giveaway took place at noon today. Jennifer Huang, who attended the drawing virtually, chose the winning suitcase at the event, which was held at Heritage Federal Credit Union.

A few hours after the drawing, Ms. Huang contacted the United Way to say she wants to donate her entire winnings back to United Way. Ms. Huang said, "I believe nobody donates in hope to win money. I give because I care a lot about underprivileged families and students. There is no other organization knows better how to make the best use of this money. I hope it will help some families in this pandemic. I am happy I won so I can give back more."

Heritage Federal sponsored the giveaway and provided the prize money. No donor funds were used for the drawing. Donors received entries based on their donation amount and whether they have been a previous supporter or new to the cause. Local residents were also allowed to write in and request an entry without being required to donate.

When asked about Ms. Huang's donation, United Way President and CEO, Amy Canterbury, exclaimed, "The staff is in tears. What a gift from the heart! We just can't believe it. There's such good in the world."

United Way's annual campaign raised more than $3.3 million dollars and will help thousands of individuals and families in Southwestern Indiana reach their full potential.
